The Bushwick Book Club Seattle and Seattle Rep present Original music inspired by the work of Shakespeare on February 15 at Hugo House

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: January 21, 2020

SEATTLE, WA - The Bushwick Book Club Seattle and Seattle Rep present an all-ages evening of original music and performance inspired by the work of Shakespeare on Saturday, February 15, 2020, at Hugo House. Advance tickets will be available through Stranger Tickets.

In its celebratory tenth season, the Bushwick Book Club Seattle has teamed up with Seattle Rep to set a group of musicians loose on one of the most admired, studied, and influential bodies of work in literature—the writing of William Shakespeare. Each musician has picked a single piece from Shakespeare’s boundless oeuvre, from sonnets to Cymbeline and anything in between! The music will be supplemented by monologues performed by local actors—a touch that the Bard himself would surely approve of.

Since 2010, the Bushwick Book Club Seattle has hosted over 350 individual performers writing and debuting original music inspired by literature. This event will feature several outstanding voices in its lineup; acts include Stephanie Anne Johnson, Debbie Miller, Joy Mills, Matt Price, Bridget Quigg, The Rejections, Del Rey, Tai Shan, Amanda Winterhalter, Rob Witmer, and Shaudi Bianca Vahdat. Hosted by Sailor St. Claire.

“A perfect storm of book nerds and music geeks.” —Crosscut. The Bushwick Book Club Seattle and STYLE: Songwriting Through Youth Literature Education are the twin arms of Bushwick Northwest, a federal 501(c)(3) nonprofit arts organization.

Tickets are $10 in advance, $5 for Bushwick Northwest members, $15 at the door: www.strangertickets.com/events/97997970/original-music-inspired-by-the-works-of-shakespeare

Doors will open at 7:00 pm. Show starts at 7:30 pm. The event is all-ages; bar with ID.
